

PRAIRIE UNITARIAN UNIVERSALIST SOCIETY

2010 Whenona Drive, Madison, Wisconsin 53711

(608) 271-8218

LINKING PLACE AND PRINCIPLE

A Prairie Landscape for Prairie Unitarian–Universalist Society

May 14, 1989

Welcome

Song: God Bless the Grass p.56
Malvina Reynolds

Bond of Union

Reading: A Sand County Almanac
Aldo Leopold

Chalice Lighting

Young People's Presentation by Religious Education Classes

Music: El Condor Pasa
traditional

Program: In Celebration of Prairies

Discussion and Questions

Song: The Flowers of Peace
Pete Seeger

Joys and Sorrows

Announcements

Participants: Mary Mullen Ruth Calden
Aileen Nettleton George Calden
Diane Derouen Rory Nelson
Brent Haglund Elizabeth Alexander

The Flowers of Peace

A new song by Pete Seeger. The tune is adapted from "Will Ye Go, Lassie, Go?" as sung by Francis McPeake, Jr. of Belfast, Ireland.

Freely

O, the sum-mer-time is com-ing and the
- If you and I would see those flowers Get
- If you and I would see those flowers Go out, leaves are sweet re-turn-ing, But those flo-wers of peace It's for up and rouse your neighbor And when first the seed is planted It takes till the fertile soil It will take more than prayers It takes them I'm real-ly yearn-ing Will they bloom ev-er bloom? Will they long and careful labor hard and sweaty toil bloom, in the Spring-time O, you flow-ers of peace — when the world should be in ring-time. Will you bloom, ev-er bloom?