

Prairie Unitarian-Universalist Society
Madison, Wisconsin
March 19, 2000

"The scientist must appear to the systematic epistemologist as a type of unscrupulous opportunist: he appears as a realist...as idealist...as positivist...he may even appear as Platonist or Pythagorean..." ---- Albert Einstein

Musical Prelude: Samba! (Recorded)
Welcome: Nancy Schraufnagel, President
Chalice Lighting

Hymn: "Morning Has Broken," #1 in Prairie Songbook,
----Doleta Chapru, piano

Joys and Sorrows

---

Richard Feynman for Children: Bob Lawrence
A Beagle Has a Good Nose. What About You?
How to Teach Your Little Sister Tricks

Richard Feynman, a Curious Character
Presented by Warren Hagstrom and Al Nettleton
Some Feynman Stories

(Members of the Congregation Can Add Their Own)

Interpretations: Elitist vs. Democratic Images of Science; Feynman as an Atheist; The Meaning of It All; etc.

Discussion

Introductions of Guests and Visitors
Prairie Announcements

Concluding Hymn: "For the Beauty of the Earth," #3 in Prairie Songbook

---