

*Doleta Dickinson Chapru
December 13, 1936 – April 21, 2012*

*From this day forth you will dwell in the hollow of the earth, no longer on the face of the earth from this day onto eternity
the earth will weave for you a blanket.
The warp will be the light of the morning.
The weft will be the red of evening.
The fringes will be the falling rain.
The border the rainbow.
The birds will sing and grass will be green.
And you will be cradled in the earth
you love forever.*

written by a friend, Paula Elkins

In Loving Memory of Doleta Dickinson Chapru

First Unitarian Society of Madison

April 30, 2012

- Introductory Music.....Orange Schroeder and Dean Schroeder
- Welcome.....Barbara Park
- Flowers in the Forest (Scottish)* .....Prairie Winds
- Doleta and Unitarian Universalism.....Barbara Park
- Sunshine in My Soul*.....Prairie Choir and Cambrian Singers
Directed by Barbara Park
- Doleta as a Humanist.....Bob Park
- When the Summer Sun is Shining – #66*.....Congregation Accompanist, Aileen Nettleton
- Doleta as a Musician.....Ruth Calden
- Doleta and the German Connection.....Rosemarie Lester
- Come Sing a Song with Me – #346* .....Congregation
- Doleta as a Teacher and Mentor.....Al Nettleton
- Doleta as a Family Member.....Rosemary Dorney
- Ar Hyd Y Nos (Sleep My Child)*.....Cambrian Singers
Directed by Dan Proud
- From This Day Forth*.....Christina Klock
Written by Paula Elkins
- My Life Flows On In Endless Song*..Mary Mullen, Dan Proud, Anne Urbanski, Carl Wacker

Please join us for conversation and refreshments after the service. You may leave written remembrances or mail to Paul Chapru, 860 W. 181st Apt. 48, New York, NY 10033.

