Closing Words:

Let us remember all who have been harmed by violence.

We acknowledge the strength of those who survived and of those still struggling to heal.

For their sake and for ours, we commit ourselves to building each other up and to healing together.

Let us remember the families and loved ones of those who have died in violent crimes.

We acknowledge their pain and their deep grief

They too are part of our community and need our love and help towards healing.

Let us remember the families of those who commit violent crimes.

We acknowledge that their lives too are devastated and their hopes dashed.

We remember that pain goes out in many directions from each act of violence.

We will stand up to violence.

Announcements

Green Note: Are you looking for an environmentally friendly activity for the family over the holiday? Try decorating a tree for the birds! Place seed bells, suet, pine cones with peanut butter, and seed trays on any tree in your yard, preferably a tree in the open where cats can be seen easily by the birds. To attract a wide variety of birds, use varied seed types such as black oil sunflower seed, wild bird mixed seed and nyger seed bells. This is a great activity for kids, and offers an important food source for birds during the winter.

Prairie Elders meets in the Annex at 1:30 on December 22. This month we will be discussing the following. How do those with non-Christian, atheist or humanist beliefs feel at this time of year. Are your buttons being pushed? If you are over 65, or there abouts, please join the Elders three days before Christmas for a stimulating social time and discussion. For more information, contact Al Nettleton or Penny Eiler. The first meeting in the new year will be January 26.

The Book Club will meet December 27 after the service to discuss Being Mortal: Medicine and What Matters in the End by Atul Gawande (nonfiction, 282 pages) (recommended by Pam Gates and Mary Frantz) His book is a personal meditation on how we can better live with age-related frailty, serious illness and approaching death. (New York Times Sunday Book Review)

Prairie UU Society Bond of Union

*We, the members of Prairie, wish to associate ourselves together in a religious community which affirms that we share a common humanity, that we need one another, and that our futures are inescapably bound together. Together we would expand our intellectual horizons, enrich our sensory experiences, and deepen our emotional sensitivities.
We would sharpen our ethical awareness and broaden our sense of social responsibility. We would stand tall in our quest for integrity of life, yet not at others' expense. As the prairie stretches out until it becomes one with the sky, let us reach out to touch and be one with the natural world, and with one another.*
