Greet Your Neighbor

*Please stand as you are able.
Al Nettleton is today’s tech assistant.

Green Note: Indoor air quality can decline during the winter months. House plants can help! They filter the air we breath and also release much needed moisture into the air. Plants such as the spider plant, peace lily, ficus, Boston fern, and aloe vera are easy to grow and remove VOCs and formaldehyde from the air.

We will share our offering for the rest of the year with Beacon House, the homeless day shelter which opened Oct. 16. The shelter offers laundry facilities, counseling, and help finding employment, as well as a place to stay warm and fed during the day. Prairie is trying to do its part!

Annual Fall Parish meeting on November 19! We’ll be discussing and voting on the 2018 budget and a change to the Board of Trustees. Please attend!

The Humanist Union will meet today after the service for lunch at 11:45 and program 12:30 to 1:30. The speaker is Dr. Malia Jones and her topic is "Tragedy of the commons: declining vaccination rates and herd immunity."

Prairie Elders will meet on Tuesday, November 28, at 1:30 p.m. in the Annex. All Prairie members and friends of retirement age are welcome! Bring a snack to pass if convenient. Coffee and tea provided.

Interested about learning more about Prairie or Unitarian Universalism? We’ll be holding an orientation/new UU session soon! Contact Erin Bosch or Rev. Sandy for more information.

The next Soup Sunday will be November 19 after the service and before the Parish Meeting.

Prairie UU Society Bond of Union

We, the members of Prairie, wish to associate ourselves together in a religious community which affirms that we share a common humanity, that we need one another, and that our futures are inescapably bound together. Together we would expand our intellectual horizons, enrich our sensory experiences, and deepen our emotional sensitivities. We would sharpen our ethical awareness and broaden our sense of social responsibility. We would stand tall in our quest for integrity of life, yet not at others' expense. As the prairie stretches out until it becomes one with the sky, let us reach out to touch and be one with the natural world, and with one another.

Principles of the Unitarian Universalist Association of Congregations

We, the member congregations of the Unitarian Universalist Association, covenant to affirm and promote:

- The inherent worth and dignity of every person;
- Justice, equity and compassion in human relations;
- Acceptance of one another and encouragement to spiritual growth in our congregations;
- A free and responsible search for truth and meaning;
- The right of conscience and the use of the democratic process within our congregations and in society at large;
- The goal of world community with peace, liberty and justice for all;
- Respect for the interdependent web of all existence of which we are a part.

Next week's service:

"A Cold, Hard Look at Reality," by Rev. Sandra Ingham.
