Nature has introduced great variety into the landscape, but man has displayed a passion for simplifying it. Thus he undoes the built-in checks and balances by which nature holds the species within bounds.

Closing Words by Toby Wacker

The river meets the ocean; I shall not want.

I lay me down in green pastures: I walk beside the still waters.

My soul restores itself: I follow the paths of truth for wisdom's sake.

Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for the wind is with me; the earth and the sky they comfort me.

I find a place in the midst of mine enemies: cobwebs bloom in the silence; my hands spill sunlight.

Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the world till we all are ended.

Virtual Coffee Hour

Prairie UU Society Bond of Union

We, the members of Prairie, wish to associate ourselves together in a religious community which affirms that we share a common humanity, that we need one another, and that our futures are inescapably bound together. Together we would expand our intellectual horizons, enrich our sensory experiences, and deepen our emotional sensitivities. We would sharpen our ethical awareness and broaden our sense of social responsibility. We would stand tall in our quest for integrity of life, yet not at others' expense. As the prairie stretches out until it becomes one with the sky, let us reach out to touch and be one with the natural world, and with one another.

We are sharing our Offering this quarter with the Street Pulse. This provides an income and outlet for marginalized Madison residents
